Speculative applications

Einsatzort: Rothenburg ob der Tauber

Ihre Aufgaben:

Can’t find a suitable vacancy at the moment? Are you looking for a fresh challenge and keen to join the Neuberger team to help build the automation solutions of the future?

If your answer is yes, you are welcome to send us a speculative application at any time. We always have a wide range of opportunities and options available, both in the technical and commercial fields and in apprenticeships, studies and internships.

We look forward to receiving your application!

Ihr Profil:

You are capable, motivated and committed. You are confident and a good communicator. You work reliably and independently to find solutions and you are a team player. You value personal development and further education. If so, then you would be a perfect fit for the Neuberger team!

Unser Angebot:

We are one of the leading suppliers of building automation, room automation and clean room and process technology. We provide an in-depth and professional induction in a positive working atmosphere with a flat organisational structure.

We guarantee varied and exciting assignments and projects with plenty of scope for flexibility and innovation in a company with a guaranteed future. Our premises are situated in beautiful locations and are fitted with state-of-the-art equipment. We offer a competitive salary, above-average social benefits and a wide range of individual training and development options. You will also benefit from our comprehensive range of perks and benefits.
